Following her widely acclaimed history Paris 1919: Six Months That Changed the World which won such major awards as the Duff Cooper Prize, the Samuel Johnson Prize, and the Governor General's Literary Award Margaret MacMillan presents this superb analysis of the unforeseen thaw in U.S.-China relations in 1972. In particular, she considers the characters of the major players—the American president and the Chinese chairman, of course, but also the architects of the accord, National Security Adviser Henry Kissinger and Premier Chou En-Lai—and the changes brought about by their diplomatic overtures.
