Not illustrated. 1911 Excerpt: .are sometimes an enemy to the milk business, because of the sensationalism and exaggeration which is so frequent to-day. Often the milk question does not get such a square deal as Mr. Haney has given it. Every city has its yellow journals which care more for sensations than the more prosy facts. You are all familiar with many illustrations of this. I will cite only one. I was in Kansas at one time, and the milk dealers of a certain city were going to put the retail price up to seven cents per quart, and some of the newspapers had been abusing the dealers in outrageous terms for raising this price. One morning one of the newspapers came out with unbounded commendation of one dealer who had announced his intention of selling milk at five cents a quart. The babies will rise up and call him blessed, said the paper, not knowing that five cent milk is a temptation to adulteration, fraud, and dirt of the very worst kind. John F. Anderson, M. D., of Washington, D. C.: I think it is a well established fact that the public has to be educated in all movements of this kind. The indication always exists in advance of any progress made by our executive bodies who have control of such situations. I quite agree with Mr. Haney that we have neglected, in a large measure, the very great aid that can be extended by the newspapers if the...
